

Stephanie Kezia Williams Manifesto

“Refuse to be average. Let your heart soar as high as it will” by A. W Tozer. As the quote says, don't just give into being mere average but rather spread your wings and soar to find how high can you truly fly, to reach your goals. My name is Stephanie Kezia Williams and I am running for the position of your Full Time Officer. I believe that true and successful leadership comes from being able to understand how people feel and what they are wanting from their leadership by putting oneself in their shoes. I can assure you that I am one such person who will strive to keep trying to fulfil all that is required to make what once seemed impossible come into a reality. I also strongly believe in this saying “One size does not fit all”, so I encourage you to come and be part of this new start. This begins by making a simple step to come and vote. Vote for me and let us embark on this new journey together.
